Mrs. Ralph (Pearl) Carey of Seaside, appeared on Sunday evening, April 28, 7 p.m., on the Community Awareness Program, KZEN, in a discussion of the controversial "Hatch Act", which she has been trying by all possible ways to have revised by Congress. She recently paid a visit to Washington, D.C. in an effort to convince many Government Officials and members of Congress to do something to change this Act, so that Government employees will not be prohibited from taking part in partisan politics. Mrs. Carey is a former Civil Service Employee who was recently discharged for activities of this sort.

She has also been invited to speak on Wednesday, May 8, to a gathering of college students at MCP on the unconstitutionality and unfair political restraints on civil service workers. The group will meet in the Student Lounge of MPC from 12 to 1 p.m.

Speaking last night before a gathering of Monterey Citizens, The Candidate Night, sponsored by the Wharf-owners Association, Morgan Flagg, Democratic candidate for Congress in the 16th Congressional District, said he favored the legislation recently introduced in the senate which would extend the Territorial limits of the US to 200 miles at sea. No only is the economic base of the small commercial fisherman in jeopardy due to massive trawling, Flagg said, routinely carried on by foreign fleets at the very edge of the present 12 mile limit, but we have before us again the extinction of certain forms of Marine life.

"Unless action is taken, all forms of Pacific Salmon will have gone the way of sardine. Gone too will be the Grey Whale. "It is time for responsible legislation that will safeguard these animals from the indiscriminate fish farming practices of Russian and Japanese fleets, and which would thereby provide a continuing industry for U.S. Fishermen, many of whom face the prospect of a barren sea," he said.

The A. Phillip Randolph Institute will begin an all-out effort to achieve 100 per cent voter registration on the Monterey Peninsula when the organization opens its new offices at 1186 Broadway, Seaside, Josh Stewart, the local director for the Monterey chapter stated.

The purpose of the institute is to create a strong coalition between the labor unions and all other concerned organizations, with the express purpose of stressing the importance of voting as a means to bring about change in the local, state and National levels of government.

Stewart and other members of the Institute state that "it is time for all concerned citizens of the Monterey Peninsula to join together in order to rid our government of corruption and to jettison those politicians who have, in the past, served the interest of the elite few, instead of the pluralistic majority."

Stewart further added: "Anyone interested in working with the Institute should contact the Broadway offices in Seaside."

The Institute is designed to represent all the people of Monterey County and eagerly invites the support of all the labor unions, churches, fraternal and social organizations, and all individuals who want to see "the government represent the people as a mass instead of just the privileged few."

The Annual Spring Rummage Sale and Raffle will be held Saturday, May 4, at the All Saints Church Parish Hall, Lincoln at Ninth Ave. from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. in Carmel. The public is invited. Tickets may be obtained at the Church. Donation is $1.

For Californians who speak only Spanish, a Spanish-language edition of the State Park's System's general information folder is available at most State Park System units.

The folder gives information in Spanish on what to do and see in the 224 State parks, beaches, reserves, historical units, and recreation areas. Like the English-language edition, it tells how to make campsite reservations, what camping and recreation facilities are available at each unit, what the regulations are on everything from dogs to wildflowers, and where to go to use boats, horses, or fishing rods.

The map is available at most state parks, and also the Los Angeles office at 128 Plaza Street. You can also get a copy by mail from the California Department of Parks and Recreation, P.O. Box 2390, Sacramento, California 95811.

Flagg To Take Down His Posters

Morgan Flagg's campaign posters in Monterey County will come down this week, a spokesman for the Democratic Congressional candidate said today.

The signs posted throughout the county last week will be removed to comply with an unwritten agreement among candidates in 1972. "We were not aware of the agreement when our signs went up," a Flagg staff member said. "Now that we are, down they come."

Morgan Flagg was in full accord with the action. Mar. Flagg said, "The intent was to reach as many voters as possible, and even though the signs come down, my campaign will succeed because I will reach the voters personally."

Learn To 'Create Your Own Charisma' May 7

A special three-session course has been developed to give women of all ages an opportunity to expand their personality, appearance and communicative abilities. The first session of "Create Your Own Charisma" will be presented on May 7 at 7:30 to 9:00 p.m. at the Larkin School in the Library, located at Watson & Scott in Monterey.

Self-Image, Personality and Motivation will be discussed by John J. Teressi, who has an extensive background in Psychology and Human Factors Engineering and is currently writing a book dealing with the subject "self-image," the blueprint for success or failure. It is his premise that the human factor must be foremost in our society and that our expanding technology cannot omit the human perspective.

"Without a strong, positive self-image, we cannot achieve our highest potential, nor can we be effective in our work, our homes or interpersonal relationships," says Mr. Teressi. It is because self-image is so important for change & development that it became the first session of the course, to be held on May 7. The techniques of poise, makeup, hair, clothes, color and style will be presented on Tuesday, May 14, by Phyllis Carminati, a professional model, who has taught modeling and the special methods of making the most of one's appearance. Style and Self-confidence are major aspects of charisma. This class will also be held at Larkin School. The art of communication ... how to speak effectively one-to-one and to groups so that you will be clearly and easily understood will be discussed by Verlaine Crawford, Executive Director of the Seaside Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday, May 21. "Communication verbally and non-verbally is what creates the magnetism and energy of what we call charisma," says Miss Crawford. "Often listening can be a major part of the communication process, so all sides of communication will be examined."

This special self-improvement course is being sponsored by the YWCA and the cost will be $6 for non-members of the "Y" and $4 for members. Registration will be at the first session on May 7 or those interested may call the YWCA at 373-1713 to reserve space in this exciting new class.

Today's Army NEWS By SFC Jose Garcia ARMY RECRUITER

CABLE SPICERS

The vast network of cables that connect telephone central offices and switchboards in customers' homes and buildings is constructed and kept in good operating order by cable spicers.

The department of Labor reports that telephone companies employed over 30,000 cable spicers last year. Employment opportunities are expected to increase for cable spicers throughout the seventies.

Telephone companies will hire inexperienced men to train for jobs as cable spicers but they usually want them to have at least a high school diploma. Many companies want their applicants to have some knowledge of the basic principles of electricity and electronics. Preemployment tests are often given to determine an applicant's aptitude. Applicants must also pass a physical exam given to make sure they will be able to withstand the rigorous work involved.

The Department of Labor publishes an occupational handbook biannually which, among other things, informs young people of the many different employment opportunities and what they require in the way of training and experience. Last year's edition reports that "... Men who have received telephone training and experience in the armed forces are frequently given preference for job opening and may be brought in above the normal entry level..."

The U.S. Army has traditionally provided young men with professional instruction and valuable work experience in this area and TODAY'S ARMY has openings for cable spicers. After basic training, young men who enlist for this careers field receive training in cable splicing as part of the Army Signal Corps Advanced Individual Training. After completing their training, enlistees are sent to the installation they selected prior to their enlistment. This includes a choice of stateside or overseas installation.

Cable Spicers are responsible for locating faults in communication cables and splicing insulated wires into multiple conductor cables. They also perform various tests to locate shorts, grounds, opens, crosses, excessive moisture content and other indications of improper functioning in cables.

Volunteers in TODAY'S ARMY star at a salary level of $326.00 per month. In addition, the army provides them with free room and board, complete medical and dental care plus 30 days paid vacation annually. For further information about interesting jobs in TODAY'S ARMY contact us at 431 Webster St. in Monterey or call us at 372-4742. Till next week: That's it.

MIFS Gets New Land

On behalf of the Board of Trustees of the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies, Mr. Thomas McCullough, Chairman, announced the gift of four lots adjacent to the Institute's Administration and Library Building, from the Pinata Auction Committee. The acquisition of this property, on which MIFS has held an option for eighteen months, signifies the first expansion of the Van Buren Street Campus since the acquisition of the DaVigo property in April 1965.

Today's gift was provided by the funds from the Pinata Auction held last October 20. The bi-annual fund-raising auction, initiated and organized by a volunteer group of Peninsula Residents, was chaired by Mrs. Donald Schma and co-chaired by Mrs. James Glaser, Jr. and Mrs.

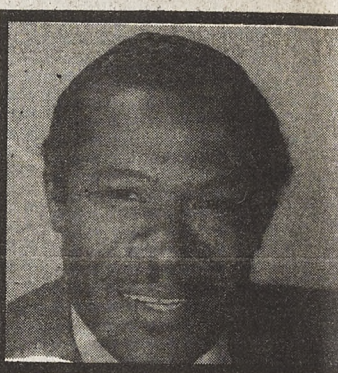

Sebastian Bordonaro, all Carmel residents. The auction Committee represents all of the volunteers who contributed and participated in the event.

The new acquisition has been designated as the site of a projected library for the Institute, an affiliate of the Northwood Institute. The present library collection is housed in the main Administration Building at 425 Van Buren Street, site of the former Carnegie Library of Monterey. The construction of the library, which will house the Foreign Language, English Language, and periodical collections, has been set as the first priority for the development of MIFS. The building itself has been designed to increase study space for students, as well as office space for the faculty.

C of C Progress Report

by Verlaene Crawford

The next meeting of the Board of Director of the Seaside Chamber will be on Thursday, May 2, at 8 a.m. at the Chamber offices. Items to be discussed will be "May is Anti-Litter Month"; the National Little League; the All-America City Awards and Sister Cities International.

Anyone interested is welcome to attend the Chamber Board Meetings. It is a good opportunity to learn what's happening in the City as well as in the business community.

The Chamber is busy working on the promotional brochure for our city. It should be quite attractive with many pictures of homes, businesses, churches and schools, so that people outside our area can have a good picture of Seaside.

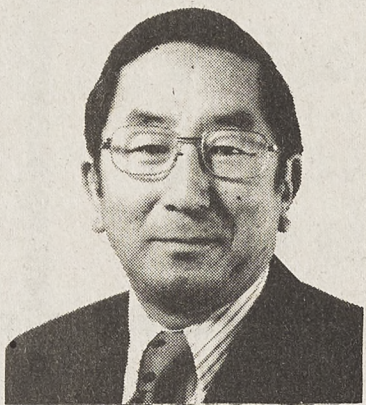

From the minutes of the Overall Economic Development Program Committee Meeting of April 10, 1974, (This is part of the Monterey County Community Services)... The Committee considered 5 projects submitted by the City of Seaside and assigned the following priorities: (1) Youth Center, (2) Laguna Grande Drainage Structure, (3) Laguna Grande Fremont Boulevard, Kolb Avenue Drainage Culvert, (4) Seaside Public Library. The fifth project did not receive support of the Committee as it was felt the project should be funded by private development. These were proposed projects for Economic Development Funding.

49er QB To Speak For FCA

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes Huddle Group of Monterey High School will sponsor San Francisco 49ers quarterback, Joe Reed, on the Monterey High Campus all day, May 3rd.

Joe Reed will speak to an all school assembly in the morning at 9:30 a.m. and again at the big FCA fund raising dinner that night in the Monterey High School cafeteria at 7:00 p.m.

Tickets for dinner are $4 for adult and $3 for student through high school age, and may be purchased at the high school student bank, hours 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., or by calling 649-7482. F.C.A. members are also selling throughout the community.

Money raised from the dinner will help send Monterey students to F.C.A. sports camps labeled - A week of perspiration and inspiration.

Rec Program To Begin

Physical fitness is the key to good health, and the Monterey Peninsula College Recreation Department is sponsoring a Saturday Co-Recreational sports program for men, women, and children who wish to stay trim and participate in informal sports activities.

According to Nancy Barbour, recreation instructor, the MPC gym will be open to persons of all ages on Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. and a wide variety of supervised sports activities are offered.

Basketball, volleyball, badminton, weightlifting, wrestling, softball, and football are included in the program. Admission to the gym is 25 cents per person.

For further information, contact Ms. Barbour at 375-9821, ext. 305 or 395.

The F.C.A. camps are staffed by professional and college coaches and athletes.

Last year the Monterey High F.C.A. group sent 27 students and 5 staff members and their families to Fellowship of Christian Athlete camp at Santa Barbara California or Ashland, Oregon at a total cost of $4200.

The purpose of the fellowship of Christian Athlete Organization is to confront the high school and college athlete and coach, and through them the youth of the nation, with the challenge and adventure of following and working within their religious faith.

Head coach of the Dallas Cowboys professional football team, Tom Landry is the working president of the Board of Directors of the National Fellowship of Christian Athletes organization.

RR Crossing To Be Made Safer

Increased safety at a railroad grade crossing of Route 1 in Monterey County will result from a project approved recently by the California Highway Commission at a business meeting in Merced.

The work will consist of replacing the existing flashing light signals at the Southern Pacific Railroad's crossing of Route 1, about 2.5 miles north of Marina, with train-actuated automatic gates.

Commissioner Vernon J. Cristina of San Jose said the project was taken from a priority list established by the Public Utilities Commission. Individual projects on this list are chosen on the basis of the volumes and speeds of trains and vehicles, sight distances, accident histories, and other safety considerations.

Science Fair Set For May

How would you like to win a savings bond, trophy or ribbon? If you are high school student in the Monterey area, you will have an excellent opportunity to do so on May 24 at a science fair sponsored by the Naval Postgraduate School (NPS) and the Monterey Navy League.

The science fair and competition will take place on the Navy school campus from noon to 6 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Students must submit entries by May 10. Entry blanks and additional information are available from individual Monterey area high school principals. All 10th, 11th and 12th grade students including those in high schools under the Diocese of Monterey are eligible to participate.

Keen competition in the areas of scientific displays, demonstrations, and models developed by the students will set the stage for an awards ceremony for winners.

A highlight of the event will be a special "open house" with displays, demonstrations, and seminars for participants and visitors, provided by personnel of various NPS departments.

Members of the Navy League Council and faculty and staff personnel from NPS will serve as judges. For additional information, interested students may contact the Public Affairs Office, Naval Postgraduate School, Monterey, Ca. 93940 or telephone 646-2023.

Giant Killer Enters Laguna Seca Race

When the Camel GT West Coast debut at Laguna giant killer will be among its entered in the race include Challenge Series makes its Seca Raceway May 11-12, a entrants.

Paul Newman Tests Laguna Seca Track

Paul Newman the actor became Paul Newman the driver last week as he tested his driving skill on Laguna Seca's tight 1.9 mile road course.

Newman, who competed in last year's International Motor Sports Association's (IMSA) Series is anticipating driving in Laguna Seca's upcoming Camel GT Challenge Race on May 11-12 when IMSA moves the series to the West Coast for the first time. He will be competing this year in a Bob Sharp prepared Datsun 260Z.

Celebrating the course to be a true test of driving skill, Newman commented that Laguna Seca is also one of the most difficult circuits he has run.

Two popular drivers were there to give Newman points on how to handle Laguna Seca. They were Bob Bondurant of the Bondurant Driving School in Sonoma and Walt Maas of FAR Performance in Mountain View. During testing Newman drove the FAR PERFORMANCE Datsun B Sedan, the car in which Maas set a new class record at Laguna Seca in 1972 - a record which still stands.

Both Bonurant and Maas will compete in the May race at Laguna Seca.

The Camel GT Challenge will be one of three races along with the Goodrich Radial Challenge and the Volkswagen Super Vee Gold Cup which will make up the Monterey Triple Crown. The total purse for the weekend is $55,000, second only to past Can-Am events at the track.

Tickets are now on sale at all Sears, Macys and Ticketron outlets as well as various import car dealers and parts houses throughout Northern California. Children under 12 are admitted free. Camping is available adjacent to the raceway at Laguna Seca Ranch Campgrounds.

Also from California will be Haywood; John Greenwood in Frank Search, San Leandro, a much publicized Corvette, in a Camaro; Roger Kraus, Formula 5000 star Brett Castro Valley and Gary Lungert and Can-Am star Milt Tucker, San Jose, in Corvettes; and Ranier Neumann, Belmont, in a Mustang.

At Laguna Seca, Holbert has entered his powerful Porsche Carrera in the two parts of the Camel GT Challenge Race. Among those also entered in that race are Gregg, Audi, Geary Plaza and Jacksonville, Fla., in another Webster Volkswagen, Geary Porsche Carrera; Greenwood, Plaza. Children under 12 are Troy, Mich., in a Corvette reportedly costing $90,000 to build; Can-Am driver Charlie Kemp, Jackson, Miss.; and Bob Bondurant of the Bondurant Driving School. Kemp and Bondurant will both be driving Porsche Carreras.

Several weeks ago actor Paul Newman practiced at the track in preparation for entering the May race.

WHY NUCLEAR POWER IS THE SOLUTION TO THE ENERGY PROBLEM.

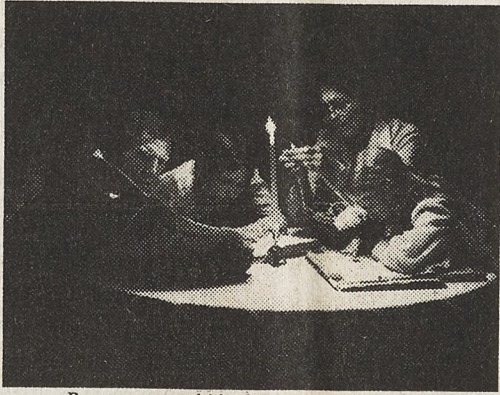

Thousands of men work and live safely on nuclear-powered subs.

The electric energy problem here in California is simply a matter of oil and natural gas shortages. The problem is going to plague us for some time to come, unless other forms of energy are used. The solution is to use energy wisely and to build more nuclear power plants. Nuclear plants are safe. They are practical. They are economical. They are environmentally clean. But they take time to build—about ten years.

There's no mystery about nuclear power plants. There are 44 operating in the United States; more than that among other nations of the world. There are more than 100 nuclear-powered ships in the U.S. Navy; even more in other fleets. The nuclear industry has hundreds of reactor years of successful operating experience. The technology is proven.

Some people have questions about nuclear power. Some people give incorrect answers to those questions.

We at PG&E have had long experience with nuclear plants. We believe firmly in them. So do other utilities, world-wide, both government-owned and investor-owned. And so does the overwhelming majority of the scientific community.

Brownouts and blackouts can happen here.

NUCLEAR POWER AND THE FUEL SHORTAGE

At present most of PG&E's steam-electric power plants burn scarce and very expensive low-sulfur oil to generate electricity. We will have to buy about 20 million barrels this year and 35 million next year to meet our customers' electric energy needs. Our two-unit Diablo Canyon Nuclear Power Plant, now under construction in San Luis Obispo County, will displace a need for an additional 24 million barrels of oil every year in the future.

Delays in construction schedules of these and other nuclear units—delays, for a variety of reasons, over which utilities generally have little control—have had much to do with bringing about today's electric energy problems in California.

While nuclear power plants cannot solve the problem immediately, they can in time. As more come into service, they will free up large amounts of oil, significantly alleviating the aggravating long-range fuel shortage—gasoline and all.

NUCLEAR POWER AND SAFETY

The safety record of commercial nuclear power plants is unmatched in industrial history. Safety systems and their back-up systems function efficiently. There have been no nuclear-caused deaths. Not even a significant injury. (For comparison, about 54,000 Americans are killed every year in auto accidents; 3,000 die choking on food; 160 are killed by lightning.)

Actually, fissionable nuclear fuel for power plants is very dilute—so dilute that it's impossible to create an atomic explosion in a nuclear reactor.

With all the safeguards that are built into each nuclear power plant, the chance of a major accident is about one in a million.

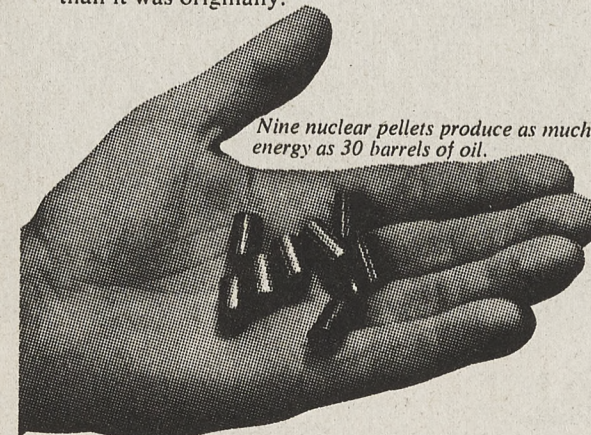

NUCLEAR WASTE. WHAT HAPPENS TO IT?

When nuclear fuel is used, nuclear waste is created. But more than 95 per cent of the original fuel is recycled for re-use. The remaining waste is small—so small that such waste from a large nuclear unit operating for 30 years could be contained in a space no larger than a two-car garage. The waste is radioactive; but is treated as such. Very carefully. Safety first.

Used fuel is sealed in heavily-shielded, leak-tight casks and shipped to a facility which specializes in nuclear fuel re-processing. Every safety precaution is taken to insure that no leakage occurs. Shipping and handling are carried out under strict regulations of the AEC and the U.S. Department of Transportation. After processing, the residual waste will be solidified and placed in secure, long-term storage under rigid government control.

NUCLEAR POWER PLANTS AND MARINE LIFE

Some people have voiced concern because some power plants discharge warm water back into natural water bodies. These power plants—whether nuclear or fossil-fueled—use cooling water in steam condensers. In a nuclear plant the cooling water is only about 19° warmer when returned to its source, and otherwise is harmless. Where the water source is large enough and cold enough to receive and assimilate it, like the Pacific Ocean, it has no significant adverse effect on marine life. The only appreciable change is that in the immediate water discharge area the balance between warm water species and cold water species of marine life may shift in favor of those liking warmer water. In fact, after 24 years of scientific study and many more years of operating experience, it is clearly established that marine life near PG&E power plants tends to be more plentiful than it was originally.

Nine nuclear pellets produce as much energy as 30 barrels of oil.

NUCLEAR POWER—CLEAN, ECONOMICAL

For both environmental and economic reasons, nuclear power is the solution to the electrical energy problem.

Most hydroelectric power resources are already developed. Fossil-fueled steam electric plants consume scarce and increasingly costly oil and natural gas. Barring technological breakthroughs, geothermal energy can meet only a small part of future power needs. Fusion power is decades away. And other possible sources of energy, such as solar, tidal and wind power, are in experimental stages of development, and the latter two may never become practical for large-scale use. Coal can supply some help in California over the short run. But nuclear energy is the power source which has arrived.

Nuclear power is economical. For example, the electricity produced at PG&E's Humboldt Bay Nuclear Power Plant for $2.00 would cost $17.20 at a plant burning low-sulfur oil, at today's fuel prices.

Moreover, nuclear power generation is clean. Unlike burned fuels, it releases no combustion products into the environment.

NUCLEAR POWER AND INSURANCE

Some people say that private insurance companies won't cover a nuclear power plant. That's false. Private companies provide $110 million worth of liability insurance for each nuclear power reactor location. There have been no claims against nuclear power reactors. In fact, the insurance companies have been refunding part of the premiums paid by the utilities.

In addition, utilities pay the federal government for indemnity insurance coverage of $450 million for each reactor location.

The federal indemnity program was created by Congress in 1957 (Price-Anderson Act) to help encourage development of a nuclear power industry in the U.S. It has been good business for the taxpayers. And it gives the public greater protection than separate homeowner insurance policies could provide. That's one of the reasons why your home owner policies have a nuclear exclusion clause.

The government has collected millions in indemnity payments from utilities—about $90,000 a year per large reactor—and has never paid out one cent. No claim has ever been filed.

NUCLEAR POWER AND THE PUBLIC INTEREST

One of the big PG&E nuclear units at Diablo Canyon is planned for service next year, and the other unit in 1976. But it will take about ten years to build additional nuclear capacity—including the time it takes to find and acquire suitable sites and obtain clearances and approvals from more than 30 governmental and public agencies.

Every year of delay exposes all of us to shortages and higher rates, and further drains our diminishing fossil fuel resources.

The energy problem simply must be solved, and nuclear power will go a long way toward solving it. Electrical energy is essential to everybody, and especially to the young people who will be forming families and needing jobs. We don't intend to relax in our efforts to provide adequate and reliable service for all our customers in the future, just as we have provided it in the past. You can help now by conserving energy at home and on the job.

If you or anyone you know would like more information on nuclear power, PG&E will be pleased to provide it. Just write: PG&E Nuclear Information, 77 Beale Street, San Francisco, California 94106.

Camacho Appoints Campaign Manager

Julian Camacho, Democratic congressional candidate, today announced the appointment of Aptos resident John Hendricks as his 1974 Campaign Manager.

"We feel most fortunate to have a man of Mr. Hendricks experience and ability join in our campaign," said Camacho, "and he will be in full charge of every facet of the effort to provide the four counties of the 16th District with effective Congressional representation for the first time in over 12 years."

Hendricks recently completed 4½ years in Sacramento where he was a legislative consultant and for 3 years served as Administrative Assistant to State Senator Alfred E. Alfquist of San Jose (the 1970 Democratic nominee for Lt. Governor).

"The Camacho campaign is a great opportunity for the people of the 16th District," Hendricks said. "In one election they can turn out of office a political dinosaur, who even now refuses to back away from the bungling, hoodling burglars of the Nixon Administration, and they can replace him with an honest, progressive man who can help restore responsibility and integrity to the federal political process."

Raised in Los Gatos, Hendricks received bachelors and masters degrees in history and political science from San Jose State University where, in 1965-66 he was student body president. Between 1967 and 1969 he served as a Naval Officer, being honorably discharged with the rank of Lieutenant jg.

SJSU Offers Wide Variety For Summer

More than 800 workshops and courses will be offered this summer by the Summer Sessions Office of San Jose State University. The first session begins June 17.

The University's summer programs include four different sessions: intersession will run June 17 to 21; the six-week session, June 24-August 2; the ten-week session, June 24-August 30; the four-week session, August 5-30.

Open to regular University students as well as non-students, many of the summer classes will meet Tuesday through Thursday weekly. Several classes will be offered in the evening. Tuition fee is $31.25 per unit.

A new program is being offered this summer to give high school students a first-hand look at college life. By enrolling in one of five different lower division classes, high school juniors and seniors will be able to receive three units of transferable University credit. Classes will be offered in natural sciences, psychology, philosophy, mathematics and sociology. Special recreational activities will be offered for summer session students. They include movies, musical programs, sports programs and field trips.

Persons may obtain a schedule of summer classes by contacting the Summer Sessions Office, 277-2182.

Camp Signups Are High

Over 1,000 Boy Scouts from 75 troops have already signed up for attendance at Camp Pico Blanco this summer, announced George Kuska, council camping chairman. The camp opens June 30 and closes August 10.

The camp is owned and operated by the Monterey Bay Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, and includes 1,500 acres of land in the Los Padres National Forest, 26 miles southeast of Monterey. A lake is located in the center of camp and provides swimming, boating and canoeing, as well as instruction in water sports and life saving.

An archery and rifle range are two popular features of the camp, which also has handicraft areas, hiking and nature trails and skill areas where all outdoor type of Scouting skills are taught. The camp is rated by the National Boy Scout Council to be one of the finest of its kind in the country.

Spaces are still available at Camp Pico Blanco and interested persons should call the Scout Center in Salinas at 422-5338. Zack Russell is Camp Director.

Guitar Classes To Begin

The Monterey Park and Recreation Department announces that beginning guitar lessons will be offered beginning the week of Tuesday, May 7. There will be twelve weeks of guitar lessons and each lesson will run for one hour with a maximum of five students per class.

According to guitar instructor Stefani Mistretta, the lessons will be conducted at the Monterey Youth Center on Tuesdays and Thursdays as follows: 3:30 p.m. for children 4th grade and up; 4:30 p.m. for junior high and high schools students and at 5:30 p.m., 7:00 and 8:00 p.m. for high schools and adults. Special classes may be arranged for students.

For the twelve weeks of instruction the fee for Monterey residents is $34 and for non residents $38. Interested participants must register in advance at the Monterey Park and Recreation Department, 546 Dutra Street. For further information please call the Department office, 372-8121, ext. 281.

MPC To Present 'Boys In The Band'

The Monterey Peninsula College Drama Department is preparing for "Boys in the Band," the next production by the MPC Players following the highly successful run of "Hair."

The all-male cast has been selected, with the lead role of "Michael" being played by Sid Cato, who also had a lead role in "Hair." The cast also includes Bob Scancarello as "Donald," Fred Bernier as "Emory," Michael King as "Bernard," Kevin Lenzen as "Hank," Stephen Barnes as "Larry," Ben Leudtke as "Harold," Mark Tanous as "Cowboy," and Chris Thomas as "Alan."

Play dates are scheduled for May 23-26; 30 and 31 and June 1 and 2.

"The Boys in the Band" is about a night in the life of Michael, who is throwing a birthday party for Harold and some of his "gay" friends.

According to director Peter DeBono, "the play is not about a homosexual, but it is a play that takes the homosexual way of life totally for granted and uses this as a valid basis for human experience. The power of the play is the way in which it remorselessly peels away the pretensions of its characters. It is uncompromising in its honesty."

Class For Future Parents

Parents-to-be can sign up for a new eight-week course in Preparation for Parenthood which starts May 2, the Monterey Adult School has announced.

The class will meet Thursdays from 7 to 10 p.m. at Seaside High School and be taught by Anne Wright, R.N. Tuition is $1.

Mrs. Wright said expectant parents will be given information about pregnancies and parenthood in an informal group setting. Relaxation, exercises and breathing patterns (Lamaza, Read and Bradley methods) are taught. The course also covers breast feeding, the care and feeding of mothers and babies and family adjustment to childbirth.

Further information can be obtained by contacting the adult school office at Seaside High during evening hours, 649-7386 or 649-7188 or by calling Mrs. Wright at 455-1531.
